Never in our 48 years of operation have volunteers with HSRC been notified of so many stray and abandoned cats and kittens over a six month period as during this past six months. We are receiving at least one call everyday, and often multiple calls, from residents of Rowan County and neighboring counties about cats and kittens showing up on porches and in yards, beside busy roads, in shopping carts in parking lots and other places. We offer as much help as we can which might include vaccinations, altering, food and often veterinary care. While cats and kittens account for most of the stray and abandoned calls we receive, dogs, puppies and pet rabbits have been reported to HSRC in unprecedented numbers also.

As much as we wish we could, we cannot accept all these unwanted animals. We depend on foster care homes, and currently our foster homes are full. If you can consider providing foster care for an animal(s) in need of love and rehabilitation or know someone who can, please contact us at 704-636-5700 or at hsrcnc1973@gmail.com.

Donations have been somewhat decreased over the past couple of years, and we have been unable to hold some of our most successful fundraising events due to COVID. The weekend of October 14 & 15 will be a busy one for HSRC.

Lights of Love, is scheduled for Friday, October 14 - Lights may be purchased for a donation of $3/luminary, and it's a lovely way to honor and memorialize friends and family. Also, HSRC will participate in Granite Quarry's Fall Festival the following day (Saturday, Oct 15).

Please join us and invite your friends to support our services. Thanks!

PLEASE SEE LIST OF OUR UPCOMING EVENTS ON BACK

ALSO, please see separate ENCLOSED FLYER with details for all events & the Lights of Love form to complete & send with donation.

- ◆ We spayed & neutered 105 cats & 34 dogs for a total of 139 pets through our Spay & Neuter (S/N) clinics.
- ◆ We spent $ 8,041.58 on sick and/or injured animals in our community (not including S/N)

SAD TALES/HAPPY TAILS

A lucky kitty found his forever home! How many times have we heard about stories like this one? How many times have so many one of us experienced a similar situation, and the joy of giving a fur baby (however old they may have been when we found them — or did they find us?) a loving, forever home?.

How many times have we said NO, let someone else take care of them, I can't do it, I can't afford it. How many times did our better angels prevailed and enabled us with the will and drive to hold them, feed them and love them!

Thank God for the Humane Society organizations wherever they may be located — being from California before relocating to Charlotte in 1996, my experiences were from the LA area. Through the years, I have been blessed to have been able to afford to take care of my vet bills, but I have known many who were not so lucky! They had the heart to love and adopt but were sometimes unable to handle the ongoing expenses of doing so. Through the years, I was able to either help them directly or through charitable donations to Humane Societies. Then, as a result of my decades' long friendship with Rose Corriher, I became involved with the Humane Society of Rowan County. Though now retired, I am still able to help financially, or through donations of pet food, or by participating in fundraising events. In the past few years, our group of long time friends have made a pact to stop giving each other Christmas presents and instead make a donation in each other's honor and friendship to the HSRC - we are all animal lovers and appreciate the services that HSRC provides in the area.

In addition, in the past few years, as I began to get ready for retirement, became a volunteer with the HSRC I've become the editor & publisher of this quarterly newsletter. As a result, I have become even more aware of the services that HSRC provides and of their need for more volunteers and continued financial support.

I hope you are able to get involved and continue to support their efforts in service to all of the fur babies who need our care and our love so much. With my deepest gratitude to the HSRC, Isy Ros

Please see the separate flyer for the full write up of this quarter's story!

SAD TALES/HAPPY TAILS

We believe that this story deserved to be told in full, as written by kitty's new mom!!! We hope you enjoy it as much as we did!

Walking into work one early July morning I thought I heard a faint “meow”. On a mission I checked under parked cars, walked the plaza whispering “here kitty kitty” and dug head first in public trash bins in search of that little voice. Finally my co-workers and I narrowed the calls to rows of shopping carts. On my hands and knees I was able to squeeze through and grab a furry tennis ball. We all ooh’d and aww’d over the kitten, until it was time to figure out who’s new responsibility he was. I opened my big mouth and advised I kept an empty medium size dog kennel set up in my spare bedroom for no reason whatsoever, so guess who took the abandoned baby home?

While my husband and I agreed we’d not get any more animals, we decided to home the little guy for a week while I looked for his new home. We do not take adopting lightly, we fully commit to our animals once they come into our home – no matter what – and this kitten was not part of our plans. Once I arrived home I laid the shirt I had carried him in on the floor for our two adult cats and 2 year old chihuahua to smell. His teeth were barely erupted so I fed him some canned food and then prepared him a warm bath in the kitchen sink. While thoroughly enjoying watching fleas jump to their drowning deaths I noticed kitty’s tail had this odd bend and reeked of rotten fish!

I’m very blessed to work for a company that donates to our community so I reached out to our friend Rose with the Humane Society of Rowan County for help finding him a home and direction on how to handle medical needs. She immediately contacted her board members and made it possible for the kitten to be seen at a local vet. I learned that he was barely 4 weeks old, was in great health but would need his tail amputated at the time of his neuter. After sharing the news with Rose she coordinated not only getting kitty’s medical care covered, but she’s been able to help my co-workers get the spay/neuter services they couldn’t afford!

While waiting for a foster home to open up I had a “tail scare” with kitty which required a vet check. I called Rose panicked, she got us right in to see his Dr. and surprised us by coming to the office to check on him. The little boy is about 3 months now and has been spoiled rotten. He loves playing tag around the coffee table with our chihuahua, making sneak attacks on anyone that moves and has become a welcomed shadow to our male cat. With the “encouragement” of one of his God mommys I’ve agreed to name him after the store mascot where he was found (though I really went for the name because of my favorite Seinfeld character - Shhhh) ... Welcome to your forever family Georgie!
